e-Learning option

If you wish to study the theory part of this course online, at your own pace and in the comfort of your own home, we will provide you with login information so that you can begin as soon as you wish.

The practical part of the course can then be completed at your venue, on an agreed date (minimum group number of 12 applies)

A theory certificate is awarded on completion of the online study modules and you may print this out yourself. The course certificate is awarded on completion of the practical element.

For this course, the e-Learning option is structured and priced as follows:

Approximate theory study time: 3 hours

Practical session duration: 2 hour
